Guest speakers

Dr Hugh Finn
A New Climate Act for WA?

Dr Hugh Finn is a Lecturer in the Curtin Law School and the school's Director of Learning and Teaching. He currently lectures in Constitutional Law, Administrative Law, and Environmental Law and Policy. Hugh is a Curtin Law School representative for the Sustainability in Business and Law initiative within the Faculty of Business and Law at Curtin. Hugh's research interests are in environmental law and policy and legal reasoning. He engages with law reform in Western Australia and nationally and has given evidence at Senate and State parliamentary committee hearings.

Millennium Kids
'Agents for Change'

Millennium Kids Inc is an environmental youth organisation that empowers young people to take action on the issues that they care about and supports them to become leaders and change-agents in their communities.

A youth presenter will speak about youth perspectives following a recent leadership workshop.
